COMMODITY HIGHLIGHTS

Prices of Cow Peas were seen to have increased in Jinja Market. Traders attributed this to the scarcity of the commodity and its low supply. The average price of Tilapia Fish was seen to have increased both on Retail and Wholesale. This is attributed to scarcity of fish in the market. Most fishing sites around the country have supplied less fish to the local market especially Tilapia fish and this has affected its availability hence the increase in the price. The average prices of Turkey, Yellow Beans, Pineapples, Sorghum Flour Goat Meat and a bunch of Matooke were seen to have dropped by reasonable margins and this was attributed to the constant supply of the various commodities in the markets across the country given there is less supply to the neighboring South Sudan which was initially a major market for agricultural commodities from Uganda.

IGANGA MARKET

Maize Grain prices in the market shot up by Shs 50 and Shs 50 on retail and Wholesale respectively. Traders attribute this to high demand by bulk buyers like schools which consume large quantities. Equally, supply from the large assembly markets was very low so this affected the prices thus the increase in both retail and wholesale price of the commodity.

Nambale beans prices in the market shot up by 200sh and 300sh on retail and Wholesale respectively. Traders attribute this to a hike on price by traders from the supply sources like assembly markets.

The supply of Yellow Beans in the market dropped thus the hike on prices by Shs 200 and Shs 300 on Wholesale and Retail respectively. Traders attribute this to high demand by bulk buyers like schools. It is worth noting that consume this particular type of beans giving reasons like it is easy to cook and consumes less firewood during its preparation. So this equally affected the hike on price.

IGANGA MARKET

Commodities like Maize Grain, Millet Grain, SimSim, Sunflower and Sorghum Grain attracted more wholesale buyers than the rest of the commodities. As was the case in Iganga Market, the main consumers were Schools (whose academic terms are ongoing), and bulk traders who really play a critical role in determining the price of a given commodities. Wholesale buyers were mainly from Busia, Iganga, Jinja and Kampala.

MASINDI MARKET

After receiving some rain this week, the price of milk reduced both on wholesale and retail. Milk vendors revealed that there is slight increase of milk production in their farms. However, demand for the commodity was registered mainly from the Central region especially from districts like Kampala, Wakiso and Mukono for the commodity.
